

2009 QUEBEC - LABRADOR CARIBOU HUNTS

KUUJJUAQ & PUVIRNITUQ • NUNAVIK, QUEBEC, CANADA

Important considerations

During this period of economic turmoil, we assure you that Arctic Adventures is a financially stable outfitting organization celebrating forty years of experience hosting hunters and anglers in Arctic Quebec.

Over the years, Arctic Adventures has built an enviable reputation for consistently providing our guests with quality hunts and personalized professional service.

Arctic Quebec, for superior Caribou Hunting

Nunavik, the land of the Inuit is the region where we welcome you to hunt the expanding Leaf River herd of Quebec – Labrador Caribou. Hunts are staged out of Kuujuaq on Ungava Bay and Puvirnituk on Hudson Bay. Daily commercial air service from Montreal to both Inuit communities provides our guests with comfortable, reliable and efficient travel North. Float planes and Twin Engine Otters await to take you on the last leg of your journey, to your selected hunting camp.

Arctic Adventures does it better

Outfitting Quebec - Labrador Caribou hunts requires careful planning and attention to detail. Arctic Adventures' hunts are organized to provide our hunters with a memorable experience on the tundra. When you book a hunt with us, you know where you will be hunting with a maximum of eight hunters in camp. You can expect to relax and enjoy five full days of exciting caribou hunting, trout fishing and northern adventure. Our chartered Single Otter enables us to move hunters if caribou migrations shift. Due to the strategic location of our hunting camps, we have had a 1.9 bulls/per hunter success rate over the past ten years. All our camps are warm, clean and comfortable with shower facilities, flush toilets, generated electricity and satellite telephone service.

Meeting your expectations

Guests' satisfaction is what drives our efforts and we know what hunters appreciate. Friendly, courteous hard-working staff await each group of hunters. Our camp cooks know that "good food and plenty of it" makes hunters happy. We continually receive compliments on the comfort of our camps and the quality of food we serve. Attention to detail is what sets us apart.

Hollis Perkins

Shot of a lifetime

You may hunt caribou with rifle, blackpowder or bow. Our guides know their territories and how to adjust to each hunter's equipment and capabilities. Each guide strives to conduct a safe and successful hunt.

Arctic Adventures' enviable records

Since Quebec - Labrador Caribou are migratory by nature, harvesting a record book trophy starts with timing - in other words being in the right place at the right time. During the past 40 years guests hunting with Arctic Adventures have entered many magnificent bulls in the Boone & Crockett, Pope & Young and S.C.I. record books.

Arctic Adventures is especially proud to have outfitted and guided the following hunters to their all time world record trophies.

Archery

1 Pope & Young	434	0/8	Carol Ann Mauch	1984
------------------	-----	-----	-----------------	------

Rifle

2 Boone & Crockett	464	4/8	James A. DeLuca	1983
3 Boone & Crockett	460	6/8	Lynn D. McLaud	1978
5 Boone & Crockett	439	1/8	Don Tomberlin	1985
6 Boone & Crockett	438	2/8	Ronald R. Ragan	1975

Based on our 40 years of outfitting experience, we have developed two types of hunts which satisfy the needs of our hunting guests.

Our Guided Caribou hunts are intended for those hunters who want to hunt and fish with a one guide per two hunter ratio. Each day afield two hunters are accompanied by an experienced Inuit guide who is knowledgeable of the hunting territory and the migratory paths the caribou prefer. Each guide has his own freighter canoe and motor enabling hunters to travel, fish and hunt at their own pace. Guides are responsible for all game handling and transportation back to camp. Camp staff take care of caping, storing and packaging your game for homebound transportation. This hunt offers the opportunity to tag two caribou, wing shoot for ptarmigan and trout fish while enjoying friendly Inuit hospitality.

Our Semi Guided Caribou hunts are intended for those hunters who wish to experience a more hands-on hunt with a one guide per four hunter ratio. Each day afield four hunters are accompanied by an experienced guide who organizes the day's hunt for his group. Each guide has his own freighter canoe and motor which is very useful for travel to hunting areas and fishing hot spots. A hunter who books a Semi Guided hunt should be able to field dress his caribou and help his guide pack his game off the land. Guides assist with caping and assure that all game is identified and stored in a screened meat house. Before departing camp, hunters are required to pack their game and wrap their antlers for homebound transportation. Meat boxes and antler wrapping materials are provided at camp. Guides work with their hunters to make sure all packing is done smoothly and properly.

All camps operated by Arctic Adventures provide hunters with solid oil heated sleeping accommodations and tasty meals prepared by a camp cook. Facilities include hot showers, flush toilets, generated electricity and satellite telephone communications. Each camp has a screened meat house and all materials necessary to pack game for homebound transportation. Each camp manager has small game, black bear and fishing permits for hunters who want to hunt ptarmigan, black bear or fish for trout. Our camps are organized for our hunters' comfort and satisfaction.

Our quality hunting packages are complete with no hidden costs.

"Just wanted to say many, many thanks for a really great caribou hunt - easily the best caribou hunt I've ever been on, and most enjoyable North America hunts. It was really great, and you guys were wonderful - camp, food, company, all were super. Sure hope we can do it again!"

Again, many thanks, and best regards,
Craig Boddington

Legal Claims

All contracts entered into with Arctic Adventures are deemed to have originated in the Province of Quebec, Canada. Any litigation that may result must be addressed to the appropriate Quebec court.

Liability

Arctic Adventures and/or its agents do not assume responsibility nor shall be liable for any injury, damage or loss of any nature whatsoever, caused or occasioned by neglect, default or by any act of commission and/or omission, whether negligent or not, of any person, company or carrier, nor of their respective representatives, servants and/or employees.

Flight delays may be encountered due to reasons beyond our control. In the event of an uncontrollable delay, we cannot be held responsible for shortened holiday time, missed connections, extra expenses for food and lodging or other loss or damages which may result. If your arrival at the camp is delayed due to uncontrollable circumstances, the full rate will apply. If you are delayed in leaving the camp, there will be no extra charge.

In the event it becomes necessary or advisable for the comfort or the well-being of our guests or for any reason whatever to terminate, amend and/or cancel confirmed reservations for any period, or portions thereof, due to strikes, national emergencies, weather or similar situations normally referred to as acts of God, or any situation which is believed to be in the best interest of the guests of Arctic Adventures, such action will be taken without penalty to Arctic Adventures, companies, corporations or persons participating in this operation. Should illness, safety or personal reasons necessitate the evacuation of one or more guests, the evacuation expenses will be paid by the guest(s) involved.

We look forward to meeting our old friends and making new ones.

DVDs

Our hunting/fishing promo in DVD format is both entertaining and informative. Spectacular footage shot by Adventures North exclusively on location at our camps will captivate your imagination. Please call our office to request your copy.
